jun 21 2011 however in a mdx query you can do this using a nonempty instead of non empty example select measure1 measure2 on 0 nonempty dim1 dim2 measure1 on 1 from cube mar 12 2011 i d have a calculated measure which includes all members of a dimension except one feb 13 2012 the reason for returning it this way is that the developer wants a standardised way of telling how many rows any mdx query will return before he runs it so that he can decide if pagination dec 12 2008 mdx is trying to be more like t sql so the name of the command is case jun 14 2018 how do i find only the rows in mdx for a power bi import if that makes a difference where i have multiple columns and i need to remove those which are useless where useless is jan 18 2016 in mdx i don t think we can apply dynamic subcube within one scope statement for getting previous day of current day you can use filter within the scope statement jul 31 2010 in the background of every mdx query if a hierarchy is not used the default member is used this further means that for each query all hierarchies are used at least in the background sep 12 2011 because we store parent key which is regional level in a dimension i could come up with the below mdx but still has similar performance oct 26 2012 i want to get current month and current quarter using mdx dec 12 2008 when i execute the mdx query the two yrs distinct count is returned 1 for the dataset what i tried to achieve here is for the members in the olap cube within this two years
