part travelogue and part memoir John S. Dinga's newest book is a sequel to navigating the contradictions of America and explores disparities between America's past and present from the perspective of an immigrant featuring characters both real and fictional. Dinga shares his observations about the realities of making a new life in a new country with an occasional flashback to the former home. The desire to immigrate to America is one shared by people all over the world. People who are often unaware of what it takes to thrive in a competitive capitalist world where nothing is the same as before settling down in a new environment and navigating the politics and stresses of finding a job are just two of the aspects of culture shock a new immigrant will face. Expectations and responsibilities from those back home also add to the new immigrant's challenges, and Dinga offers his suggestions on how to thrive under those stresses as well. He speaks not only to the potential immigrant but to those officials in power on either side of the process as well. Learning to make the right choices when presented with so many options is another life lesson addressed. The American society's freedoms, choices, and government are envied in many corners of the world, and Dinga explores how that perception influences the decision to start the journey. People need to know that living in America has its challenges, challenges not often imagined when the desire to immigrate pushes them to cross deserts, oceans, and unfriendly skies.

From the bestselling authors of Welcome to Leo's comes the sexy, sassy, smart, and highly anticipated sequel in four new tales of seduction.

George Pallas, sexy, swoony, and a man who had the ability to break my heart if I let him. I met George at a conference two years ago, and after a steamy night together, he disappeared on me. Fast forward to his brother's wedding where he's the best man, and I'm the maid of honor. Yeah, I didn't see that one coming. Either he looks just as sexy and gorgeous, if not more so, but talk about an awkward situation. Oh, and did I forget to mention that he's just been hired on as a vet at the veterinary practice where I work, but despite all that, neither one of us can forget that night we spent together, and we find ourselves spending a few more heated evenings between the sheets. We both swear it's nothing but a convenient friends-with-benefits situation until I find myself falling hard and fast for the irresistible charmer. A man who doesn't do long-term committed relationships. Will I be his first, or will I end up with my heart in pieces?
