a compact user friendly reference book addressing many of the kinds of questions about grammar that regularly confront teachers both novice and experienced when planning or executing their lessons a glance at any web site discussion forum or social network shared by teachers of english suggests that teachers are constantly asking each other questions related to pedagogical grammar these may simply be questions about terminology or categorisation what s a clause is like a preposition or they may seek to unravel subtle grammatical distinctions what s the difference between for and since or explain persistent learner errors why in bed and not in the bed this book is designed to fulfil this basic everyday need as well as being a book that can be read for interest and even pleasure in its own right

this volume provides an up to date and comprehensive coverage of second language learning the focus throughout the book is primarily on language learning but each chapter also discusses the implications for teaching and assessment thus informing both understanding and practice the book contains nine sections which aim to organise and reflect different dimensions of the diverse and complex scope of learning English as a second or additional language. Four themes which permeate the chapters are learning and learners, learning and language, learning and language development, learning and learning context. The 36 chapters are up to date and authoritative, written by experts in the field. The content is accessibly written with questions for discussion and follow-up reading suggestions provided.

Viewing current developments in materials development through the eyes of developers, users and researchers from all over the world, this book applies principles to practice. It provides a comprehensive coverage of the main aspects and issues in the field as well as critical overviews of recent developments in materials development and acts as a stimulus for innovation. Now revised and updated to take account of developments over the last decade, this 3rd edition features 8 new chapters covering materials use, blended learning, multimodality, intercultural competence, communicative competence, the practical realisation of theoretical principles in the development of digital materials, the teaching of right to left languages and the commodification of grammar. Fully updated chapters with contemporary examples and considering teaching second and foreign languages other than English, new pedagogical resources with the addition of tasks and further readings for each chapter, new online resources, 2 new chapters on producing videos on teacher development courses and materials development on teacher training courses and 2 updated chapters on development courses for teachers and simulations in teacher development alongside a range of additional tasks and further reading suggestions.

This book is designed for use both on training courses and by the individual reader. The content covers a range of learner age groups from young learners to adults within both mainstream education and language institute contexts. The aim is to encourage teachers to feel confident to develop their personal abilities within a framework of critical thinking about teaching English today as a global and ever-changing international language. The varied contexts in which teachers and students interact.

What is the spark that lights the fire of learning between learner and teacher? This study uses action research and action learning to deepen the author's understanding and praxis.

100 double-page spreads with explanations and exercises. Reference area with four clear sections: definitions, grammar patterns, collocations and set phrases, examples of real language from corpus research, varied exercises which practise and expand language idioms and natural phrases, language notes on usage.

We are delighted to introduce the proceedings of the first edition of the 2019 International Conference on Advances in Education, Humanities and Language (ICEL). The aim of ICEL International Conference on Advances in Humanities, Education and Language is to provide a platform for researchers, professionals, academicians as well as industrial professionals from all over the world to present their research results and development activities in education, humanities and language. The theme of ICEL 2019 was mainstreaming the influences on higher-order thinking skills in humanities.
